

90 reasons to switch to TalkTalk TV powered by Netgem TV

UK Internet Service Provider TalkTalk has added 90 new HD TV channels to TalkTalk TV on its TV 4K service powered by Netgem TV. Customers can now access a total of 210 channels for just £4 per month. All these channels are available at no extra cost. A very good news for British viewers facing a cost of living crisis, with inflation expected to reach 11% in October.

The new channels include over 40 sports channels, as well as big hits like Bloomberg Television, Gusto TV, Qwest music channels, Fuel TV, Wu Tang, Wedo Movies, Cartoon TV, Kids Zone and many more across all genres.

Susie Buckridge, Group Product Director of TalkTalk, said: “At TalkTalk we strive to offer an industry leading customer experience at fantastic value for money as a result of our strategic partnerships with sector experts. It’s why we’re pleased to be able to give our 4K TV customers access to so many free new HD channels through our partnership with Netgem TV, offering entertainment for everyone no matter their viewing preference.”
